The French Cerdagne

Welcome to French Cerdanya, a timeless place which recalls the past, but keeps an informed view on the future! Numerous high plateaus and the Mediterranean climate are the essence of this region.

From a touristic and cultural point of view, what is there to visit in our beautiful region?

- ✘ The natural hot water sulphur baths, in summer or winter, known since Roman times...
- ✘ The Citadel of Mont-Louis, the highest in France, built by Vauban, and the Unesco World Heritage Site...
- ✘ Typical Cerdan villages built with Llose rooves and large stones...
- ✘ The little yellow Centennial train, which traverses the Têt valley...
- ✘ The solar furnace at Font-Romeu, the largest in the world, home to the avant-garde experiments of the NSRF and NASA...

Also:

- ✘ Duty-free, shopper's paradise, the principality of Andorra...
- ✘ The Vermilion Coast, Collioure on the Spanish border, coves, ports and the typical Mediterranean lifestyle...

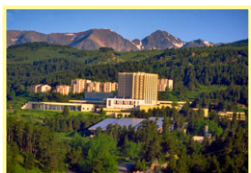

Font-Romeu

In 1910, the Grand Hotel marked the beginning of the history of Font-Romeu, by welcoming the privileged and initiating the first winter sports. The construction of the railway line for the little yellow train came shortly afterwards and helped in the development of the tourist resort.

Font-Romeu is recognized as a health resort because of its clean air, its dry climate and 300 days of sunshine per year: sunnier than the French Riviera!

The National Centre for Altitude Training plays regular host to many professional athletes, such as Paula Radcliffe, the XV of France, the football team from Qatar, as well as athletes preparing for competitions like the Olympic Games in Beijing.
